In the Men's final, Joost Whichman got the holeshot and led all the to the rock section half way down the course. Unfortunately he crashed in the rocks, taking out his teammate Thomas Slavik. Meanwhile Roger Rinderknecht and David Graf passed Joost for first and second respectively.

First place qualifier Jared Graves showed confidence by choosing to line up in gate three every round, but was bumped out in the semi-final after Thomas Slavik matched his speed down the first straight and pushed Graves wide in turn one. After two rounds of the World Cup 4X Series, Graves still retains the leader's jersey.
