Australia's Kovarik and England's Moseley Celebrate Downhill Wins:

The 2002 season of the Tissot-UCI Mountain Bike World Cup began its downhill season this weekend in Fort William, Scotland as two Commonwealth nations celebrated victories in Sunday's finals. Chris Kovarik (AUS, Intense Cycles) won his second-straight world cup race for the men, just after Tracy Moseley (GBR, Team Kona) won her career's first.

Large, enthusiastic crowds lined all 2.6 kilometres of Scotland's new world cup course, which dropped 525 metres from the Ben Nevis mountain range over rocks and mud to the base area below. And, with both the debut of Four-Cross racing Saturday evening and the debut of world cup racing in Scotland, it was a memorable weekend for this mountain bike circuit. Weather was cool and wet for much of the day, raining lightly during much of the competition.

Chris Kovarik, AUS

An unusual men's race featured a dominant win by the Australian Kovarik, who beat both Cedric Gracia (FRA, Volvo-Cannondale) and Nathan Rennie (AUS, Yeti/Pearl Izumi) by an amazing 14.02 seconds. The two runners-up tied for 2nd place after posting the exact same times down to the hundredth of a second. Kovarik's impressive winning margin is the largest in recent memory, and comes on the heels of his win at the final round last season.

"I was nervous today," said Kovarik. "I had a good timed practice run yesterday, but in qualifying I took it too fast and crashed, and that balled me up for the rest of my run." But Kovarik still managed to qualify 3rd fastest for the final, then stayed up on his bike to post an amazing time of 4:33 in the final with an average speed of 35 kph.

"I have a rugged style, holding one foot out and using flat pedals," he added. "I think I ride on the limit, and can do that with my style - it works for me." Kovarik admits that two straight wins don't hurt his mental game either. "Yeah, it gives me a real confidence boost, and tells me that I belong in the top five."

Cedric Gracia, FRA

Gracia captured second place after a wild run from the two-time world cup winner, as he rolled across the finish covered in mud. "I crashed in the woods and smashed myself good, but I never gave up," he said. "I'm tired of finishing just in the top ten, I think I'm angry and more determined. I have a new bike that works so good, new Fox shock and Oakley shoes, my sponsors are great and the team atmosphere is good."

Nathan Rennie (AUS, Yeti/Pearl Izumi) tied with Gracia for 2nd place, coincidentally sharing the Tissot "hotseat" at one point during the finals as they awaited the eventual winner. Asked if he had a clean run, Rennie replied "As clean as it gets considering all the mud. But it was generally smooth and I didn't get any arm pump - so I'm happy with the run."

Second-seeded Nicolas Vouilloz (FRA, Vouilloz Racing Team) finished 4th after crashing during his final run, running off the course and into a ditch to the left of the track. Faring even worse was the top qualifier Steve Peat (GBR, Royal/Orange), the local favorite who had a pair of wild crashes in his run. He crossed the finish covered in mud and without a saddle, his goggle lens material strewn around his body to take 17th place.
